FORWARD

The 1951 " Torch " tells the story of another successful year at Lincoln High School. To make the story possible we give you an account of daily activities and the "special" events which highlighted our year.

If the "Torch" has missed an activity or omitted a face it is because the staff is not infallible, but we have done our level best to make the book complete.

The Staff of 1951

Thanks for the help — see you next year
Best of luck
L. E. Olingy

We, the Torch Staff of 1951, dedicate this annual to Mr. Olingy, our music director. To every student who has had the privilege of working under his direction has come a greater knowledge and appreciation of music. Even though he has had innumerable pupils to work with through all his years at Lincoln High School, he took the little extra time to encourage and help each one personally. For these hours of patience and hard work, we wish to express our gratefulness and take this opportunity to tell him that he has added a bit of beauty to each of our lives.

CLASS PROPHECY

May 1, 1961

Recently, Kenny Balczewski was in New York and he visited his old friend and former classmate, JoAnn Anderson, Editor of the New York Times. JoAnn asked him what brought him to New York. She was greatly surprised to find that he was a traveling salesman for the new "51" car, the hottest thing on wheels. It was invented by another former classmate, Jack Steiger. The principle of this amazing new car is that it is driven without the use of hands! After a trial spin, JoAnn was eager to buy one of these cars. Seeing that it was for such a close associate, Kenny said he'd have it rushed direct from the factory in Detroit, owned by Jim Teeters.

That night while they were out seeing New York night life, they stopped at the world-famous night club, "Hatch's Hut," owned and operated by George Hatch. The orchestra which provided the entertainment for the evening was "Carter's Caravan," led by LeRoy Carter.

The band's vocal star was Ray Tafelski, whose record "Wisconsin Wonderland," written by Archie Graffunder, was first on the Hit Parade. Also featured with the band was "Hot Lips Hilgart," Koozie to you. At the table next to JoAnn and Kenny's, George Upton was celebrating his victory at golf. (He had just won the Walker Cup.) He, and his private caddy, Clayton Janetski, invited these former classmates to join them. The conversation turned to the class of '51 and the following facts were discovered; Jack Whitmer had been appointed Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. Jean Sutherland was head chef at the Waldorf Astoria. Vera Canik was chief surgeon at John Hopkins Memorial Hospital where Janet Fritz was head nurse. Mary Lou Miller was happily married to Clem Cuddeback. Lorraine Herbst styles hair for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and also sees a good deal of her fiancee, John Hoffman, who was a director there. Ann Senkbeil was the bookkeeper for Hoppe's store. (She has a personal interest in the business.) Bob Phillips was a game warden. He had just revised Wisconsin game laws. Artie Schmidt owns a world famous resort on the French Riviera. His head janitor is Jim Thibedeau. In the indoor sports field, the class of '51 has also shined. Ray Stueber is the world-famous pool whooter, and Dennis Kelnhofer bowls an average of 275. Jeanette Farley is Spanish interpreter for the U.N. Leola Nimmo conducts revival meetings in a tent that covers 3 blocks. Rosie Schmidt is Mrs. John Kznarich. Phyllis Smetak is secretary to the President of the U.N., Wayne Bichanich.

The next day Kenny had to leave at noon, and while they were on the way to the airport JoAnn tuned in to hear the news as broadcasted by the famous commentator, Lawrence Lobermier. They found that the class of '51 was contributing a great deal to the news of the day. Arnie Larson just invented a machine that does your work for you while you sleep. Mildred Sather just replaced Hoover as head of the F.B.I. Mary Lucas made a new shorthand speed record by taking 325 words a minute. Dee Dee Greenwood made 4 home runs to win another game for the Dodgers. The Kentucky Derby had just been won by "Greased Lightning," born and raised on Dick Kempen's horse ranch in Montana. The jockey was Clem Harris. A "K" bomb, more devastating than either the atom or "H" bomb, has been discovered by Einstein the second, Arthur Koshak. At the end of the news Lawrence announced that at two o'clock that day the world-famous Amazons, coached by Carol Wardensky, would play a game. The game would be broadcast by John Wenninger for Gillete Blue Blades. Lawrence talked for a time about the team and informed the radio listeners that Elenora Krive was the team's high point gal. Another of the team's attractions was their cheerleader Audrey Bomberger.

On reaching the airport Kenny hastily said good-bye and boarded the plane. As the stewardess checked off his name he looked at her and guess who it was? Another old classmate, Jane Hilgart. As he waited for the plane to start, Kenny picked up a magazine. On the cover was a picture of the "Cover Girl of the Month," Laura Lee Meyer. As time passed, Kenny asked Janie if something was wrong. She told him that they were waiting for the glamorous movie actress, Dorothy Amour, formerly Dorothy Gustafson. Then Janie took him in to meet the pilot, and old friend, Lawrence Schmidt. Two other celebrities got aboard at Chicago. They were Doris Reynolds, Commander in Chief of the Wacs, and Doris Robbins who was touring the country with the Philharmonic Orchestra.

After a pleasant trip, Kenny arrived home at Park Falls. There he found a ticket to James Van Camp's private showing of his latest art works, awaiting him.

Thus, we see that the little class of '51 certainly made their mark in the world.

CLASS HISTORY

Though very different, we, the Freshman Class of '47-'48, found this year the open door to a new kind of school life. The upper classmen were very understanding and helpful to us during our first bewildered days. To represent us we elected for Pres. Ronald Parkinson; V. Pres, George Upton; and Sec. Treas, Dorothy Gustafson.

Years '48-'49, the doors of Lincoln High opened to us, we returned gladly to our friends and teachers, old and new. Of course in the place of bewilderment and awe was a feeling of familiarity and a little of superiority toward the Freshman. As our leaders we chose: Pres. John Wenninger, Vice Pres. Arnold Larson, and Sec. Treas. Jack Whitmer. The Sophs have taken a prominent part in school activities this year. The many clubs and musical organizations have benefited with a membership including many Sophmores. In the Homecoming parade our float took second prize. Two dances were given by the Class: "The Snowball" and a Spring Dance.

Years '49-'50 reopened again to the members of the Class of '51. A momentous Junior year. To represent us we chose three of the most willing and able class members: Robert Phillips, Pres; Joan Hanson, Vice Pres; and Jane Wells, Sec. Treas.

Our first big project was a very appropriate Armistice Day Dance. Even more successful was the "Cupid's Canter."

Of course, the crowning event was the Junior Prom. The reigning royalty were King George Upton and his lovely Queen, Dorothy Gustafson. The gym was decorated to fit the theme, "Moonlight and Roses" and the beautiful music of Benny Graham and his orchestra, created a perfect evening that will never be forgotten or surpassed by those who attended.

On Sept. 5, 1950, we, the Class of '51 entered Lincoln High to begin our final glorious year. As Seniors we found a certain respect shown to us by the other classes, a respect which we sincerely tried to earn.

The Senior float very appropriately took first place in the Homecoming parade. The first dance of the season, The Royal Cardinal Ball, was given by the Class of '51 for the undefeated football team.

All the clubs, sports and other school activities profited by the talents of our class members.

At this time we wish to thank the faculty and school board members, for the help and understanding they have shown us.

Steiger is High With 20 Points; Lobermeier is Outstanding in Controlling Rebounds.

DePadua, trying for its seventh straight win of the season, was knocked off by the high-flying Cardinals Tuesday evening on the Ashland court by the score of 51 to 46.

In a game that was played at a much slower pace than the Card's encounter with Rib Lake last week, Park Falls limited DePadua to four free throws in the first quarter and racked up five field goals and six charity tosses to lead 16 to 4 at the end of the first period. At the half, DePadua had closed the scor 23-19 with the Cards the lead.

The Flambeau Paper Company, which is a member of the Trees for Tomorrow, Inc. at Merrill, financed the sending of 20 Junior Foresters of the Park Falls High School to the four-day conservation camp at Eagle River on April 8-11.

High school pupils from the entire state attend these annual conservation seminars at the Eagle River camp. The Park Falls High School has never before been represented at these seminars due to a lack of finances. E. Biwer, faculty adviser of the Forestry Club, attended the camp with the boys.

Local high school seniors who rank in the upper quarter of their class are also eligible to compete for the annual $1,200 Trees for Tomorrow scholarship, which requires applicants to submit a 500-word essay on "Why I Am Interested in Forestry as a Career."

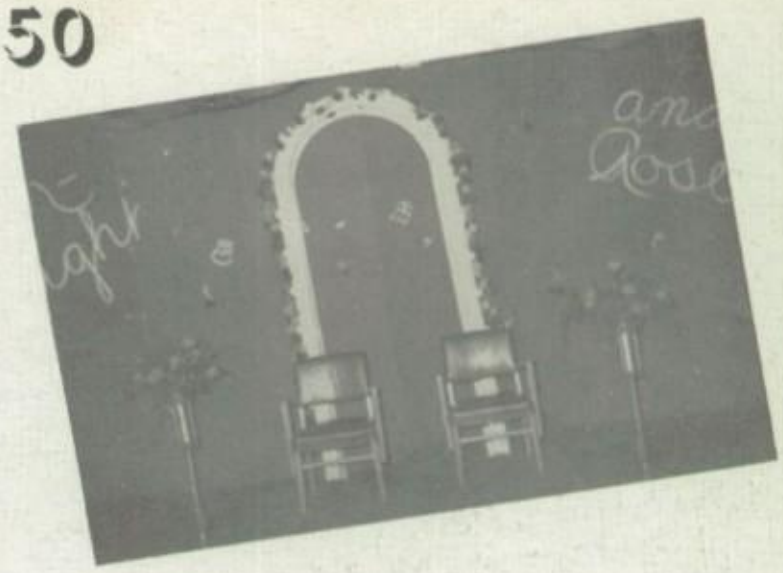
June

6 A sad day in the life of a Senior. Class day exercises were held in the afternoon and graduation exercises in the evening. Farewell to the Class of '51.

PROM OF '50



The 12th of May climaxed Prom activities. In the midst of roses and cupids decorations---the most dazzling in prom history we hear---dancers swirled to the music of "The Band." Right, it's Benny Graham. Walking into the heart of the social season is the royal couple. George Upton, king and Dorothy Gustafson, queen. "Moonlight and Roses" served as our theme for the year of 1950, and Oh, "twas fun!"

RESERVED FOR JAN

Dear Bing,

We've sure gone a long way together. We've had our up's & down's but always made out allright. And you know that anything I can do to help you out in any way I'll do for you. I know you would do the same.

We certainly have had fun in the past three years. It's nice to think that we're only got one more left though. You'll have to help keep me from being too lonesome next year, otherwise I don't know what I'll do.

Well here wishing you & Buddy all the luck any couple could have. You know I'm awful glad that you & — did break up, otherwise you & Buddy would'nt have been as happy as you are now. Don't work too hard this summer. (It's good practice tho') Love ya Jan

Hi "Boog"
See ya next year. Don't work too hard this summer.
"Annie"

Hi Boog.
We did have fun this in Home ec. Do Be good the
and don't forget me
Love
Carol Miller

The best of everything to a very cute Queen of 1954.
"Sue"

Best of luck to swell senior.
Have fun this summer!
Carole B.
'53.

Best of luck
to a swell friend
Sure hope we have more fun next Easter
like we had this year
"Pat"

Best of luck
to one of the best. Don't flirt with too many boys
Have fun!!
Pat Stein

Best of luck
to an upperclass-
woman even if's
don't know you very
well.
Mary Alice

Best of luck
to a swell classmate
Have fun and Be
Good !!! - (like me)
